REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Aug. 6.—To the entire satisfaction of about 21,000 shirt-waisted persons of both sexes, the New York National League baseball team made a little exposition of its own out of the Cardinals from St. Louis at the Polo Grounds this afternoon, beating the visitors by a score of 8 to 1, and the one that saved the face of the St. Louis aggregation was made by Grady, assisted by Brain, by a narrow

It was an ideal baseball day, warm enough to jubricate the stiffest joint that ever grew on a player, and just about right to oil the huskiest throat

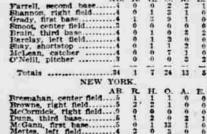

The meek and painstaking Emslie, who was the center for criticism, understood what was in for him early, for the crowd discussed him after the first Glant struck out. It was not higher criticism, but it was expressive. He looked relieved when New York piled up five runs in the fifth inning.

han got to first by the kindness of the visitors.

In the fifth inning things happened. It was this way: After four policemen had tried ineffectually to recover a foul tip from the right-field bleachers. Bresnahan partook of Mr. O'Neill's delivery for two bases; Browne for half as much more, and so did Lunn and McGann, while Mertes got to first by grace of a wiid throw by O'Neill to third. If that third baseman had ever been in the way of that ball it would have gone through him.

Then Dahlen tried to sacrifice, but it caught McGann, after which Gilbert and Bowerman resumed the hitting. All that worked out into five runs, the feast being concluded by the foul of Bresnahan, who started it all.

To restore interest, Browne made the

"I did not intend to delay you this long, but your presence here and the spirit which caused that presence are so encouraging to this management that I have not been able to refrain from thus expressing my sentiments at length.

"Again, I say to you, that your presence here inspires us with renewed hope, the resolutions which you passed, so well framed as they were, will be treasured by the management of this Exposition as a reward for all the efforts that have been made.

"We extend to you a most cordial welcome to these grounds. We trust your presence may be prolonged to the fullest extent possible.

THANKS THE N. C. R. COMPANY.

"To the National Cash Register Company and its employes the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Company makes due acknowledgment, and I thank you for your very considerate attention."

WANT ATTORNEY PLACED ON SALARY

Contended That Fees of St. Clair County Official Are Too Large -Board Orders Vote.

The increase of the fees in the office of the State Attorney of St. Clair County from $5,010 in 1898 to $15,265.35 in the last fiscal year, drew forth a resolution from the St. Clair County Board of Supervisor at Belleville yesterday, ordering the clerk of the board to have 500 petitions sent throughout the county for signatures to on a salary instead of the fee basis.

on a salary instead of the fee basis.

The amount of money retained by State Attorney Farmer in the last fiscal year was $14,39,17. Out of this, he had to pay his office expenses, includining an assistant and stenographer at Believille and an assistant at East St. Louis, and expenses assumed in getting evidence in cases.

State Attorney Farmer, whose term will expire this year, will not be a candidate for renomination. He declares that the duties of the effice are too onerous and sasumed in getting evidence in cases.
State Attorney Farmer, whose term will expire this year, will not be a candidate for renomination. He declares that the duties of the effice are too onerous and are not commensurate with the net salary he receives. Other attorneys declare that if the office is placed on a salary basis and that the salary is made anything less than flo,000, exclusive of all expenses, that it will be difficult to get a good lawyer to accept the office. It is said now that the net salary falls way below that figure. The agitation in favor of a reduction in the salary of the State Attorney was begun by Supervisor Walter Eyman, former chairman of the Board. He introduced a lengthy resolution calling attention to the amounts which the county had paid the State Attorney, and asking that petitions be sent about the county for signatures for the calling of a vote on the proposition to place the office on a salary basis. The resolution was laid over from the morning until the afterneon session, when it was adopted by the board. It is not believed that the change will become effective with the next State Attorney, but if a change will be made it will be in the salary of the one to be elected four years from now.

County Superintendent of Schools Hertel was given $125 to purchase specimens of raw and manufactured materials at the World's Fair for the benefit of the school children of the county.

William R. Snyder, a Belleville lawyer, was appointed Justice of the Peace in place of the late Henry Guentz.

A petition was received from the Recorder's office asking that the salary of the Recorder be made $2,000 a year, Instead of $1.700, the present figure. Probate Clerk Ernst Hilgard would also like to have his salary raised to $100 a month. These matiers were referred to the Committee on Salaries.

VISITS SICK WIFE ON CAPITAL STOCK

That Corporations' Holdings Should Be Valued According to Greatest Invest-

According to a decision by the Illinois Supreme Court, which was received by the St. Clair County Board of Review yesterday, that body must assess all corporations for the amount of their paid-up tions for the amount of their paid-up capital stock, and, if their holdings are of greater value than the paid-up stock, base the assessment on that.

The decision was rendered by the Supreme Court, July 2, in the case of the Hub Clothing Company against the treasurer of Chicago, it will affect many of the East Side corporations. Many of these are capitalized to a point far above the value of their holdings and heretofore they have only been assessed on the value of their holdings or their business stock.

Now, according to the members of the St. Clair County Board of Review, they will be assessed on the amount of paid-up capital stock if this exceeds the sum of their real and personal property holdings. If it does not, as in the case of the Wiggins Ferry Company, for instance, the assessment will be as heretofore, on the value of the property owned by the corporation.
